But of course . . .

To one who has faithfully served Wesleyan and its needs — to one who is responsible for keeping our campus beautiful and our plant running efficiently, we, the Senior class of 1944, dedicate our VETERROPT. For four years, he has gotten us to classes with regular clocks and bells on the hour. He has given us heat and lights in our rooms, ice water on every floor, tall pine trees at Christmas, soccer decorations, and even the most impossible props for our stunts. He has taken care of all the little details which we would never notice unless they weren't there. Cheerful, loyal and dependable, he has been ever patient with Wesleyannes. But of course . . . it's Mr. Jessie Redmond to whom we dedicate our annual.

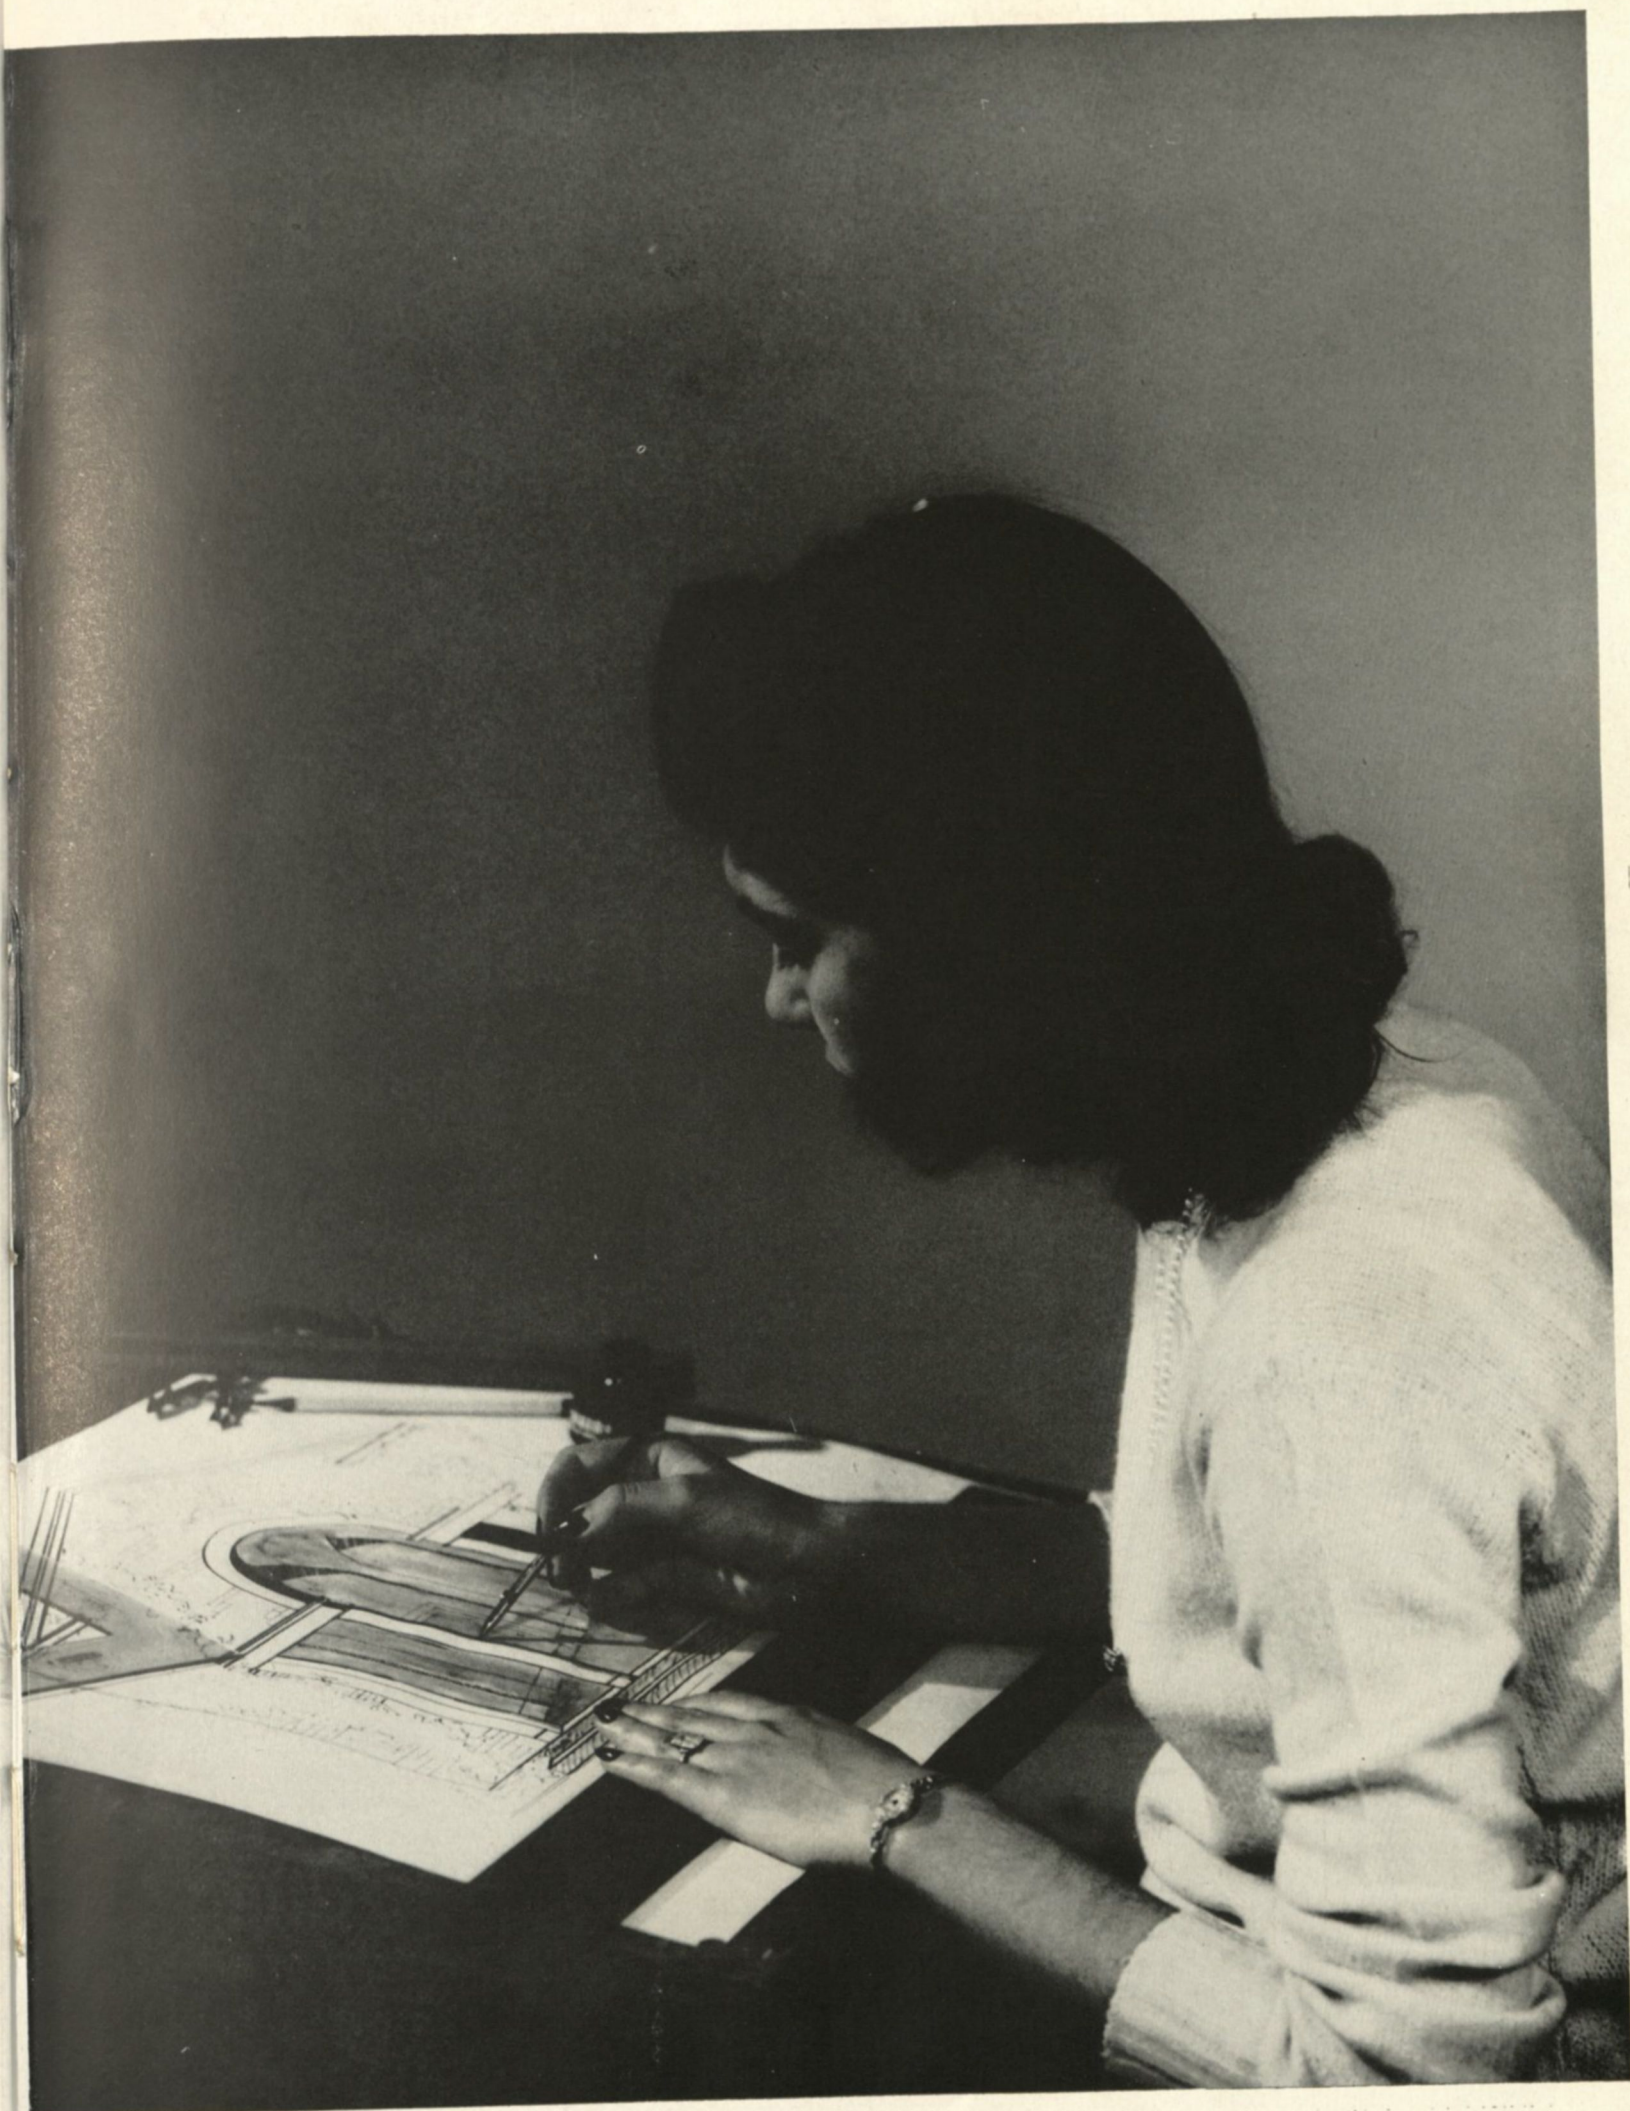

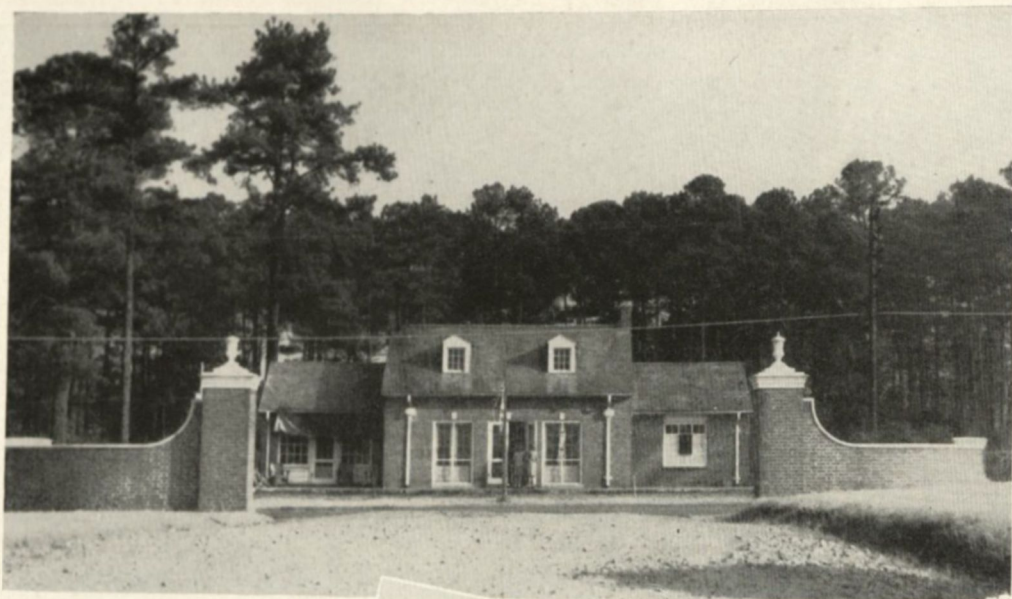

Mr. Jessie Redmond

Views . . . a glimpse around any Wesleyan corner ing . . . the Pharm . . . toasted pound cake . . .

and then . . . Dr. Mac, the Administration . . .
and the faculty members whom we have grown to love and respect . . .

Views

The Tea Room . . . our beloved "Pharm," where cokes are always cold and the juke is always playing.

Front door of the Porter Gymnasium.

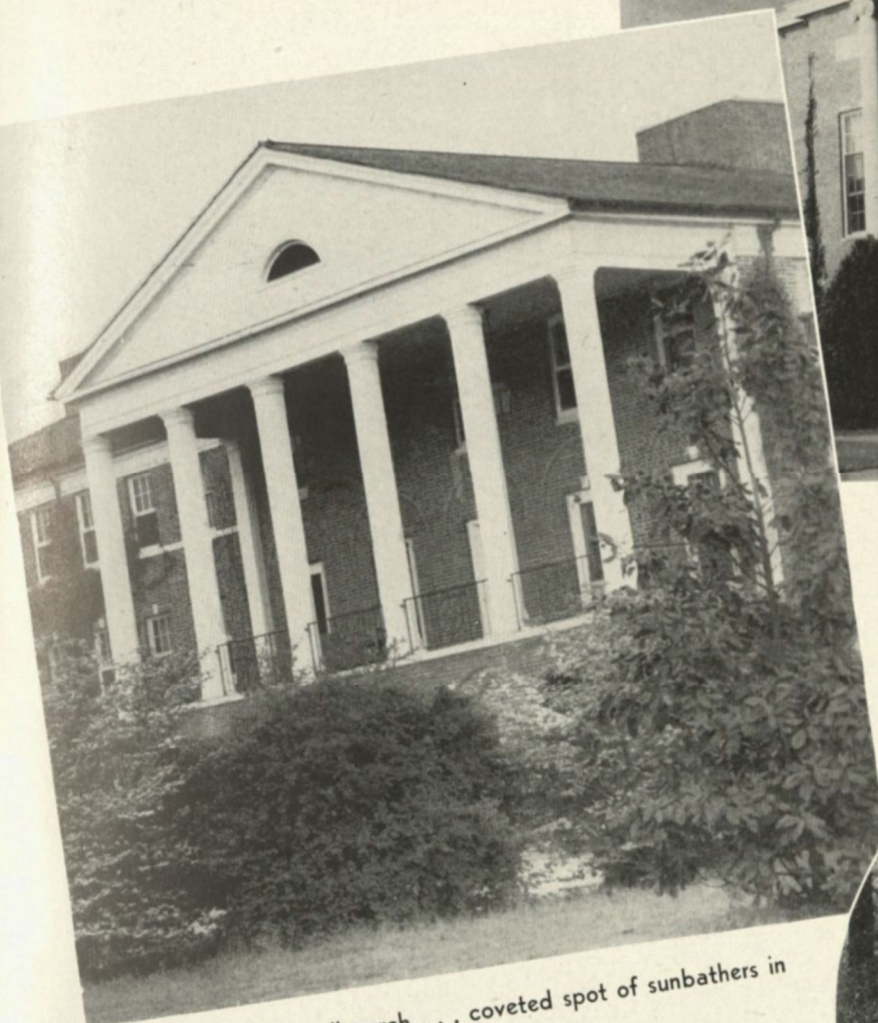

The loggia . . . the hub of Wesleyan's wheel of activities.

VIEWS

The Candler Library . . . our most hallowed spot.

South Hall porch . . . coveted spot of sunbathers in the Spring.

A glimpse of Wortham Hall from the woods beyond the golf course.

Tate Hall . . . where we study the Languages, history, philosophy and religion.

DR. N. C. McPHERSON, JR.

Enthusiastic energetic, always "on the go" for Wesleyan . . .
yet our president is never too busy for a kind word or chat with any of his Wesleyan daughters.

THE PRESIDENT

OUR DEANS

DR. S. L. AKERS

A.B., B.D., Ph.D.

Dean of Wesleyan College

Keen appreciation of the aesthetic . . . a talented musician . . . a dean with a rare understanding of his girls' needs.

MISS KATHERINE JOHNSON

A.B., A.M.

Dean of Women

One to rely on, one to confide in, one to have fun with—one to love!

DEANS at the CONSERVATORY

MISS ANNABEL HORN

Dean and Registrar of the Conservatory

A juggling of credits, subtle wit, cooperative interest in her girls — a dean who knows her Latin.

MISS LULA JOHNSON COMER

Counselor of Women

A book on Paris, souvenirs from Italy, and a sympathetic understanding of girls.

MR. GWIN . . . He doesn't believe in cutting classes but is always making good puns . . . MISS BURROWES . . . Calmly capable, and a great help to those who can't remember whether history books are in the 500's or the 940's . . . MISS CARNES . . . She wears red rimmed glasses and is always getting cokes from the Pharm . . . MRS. BROWN . . . A welcome addition to the English department and to the Library . . . knows her grammar and we're proud of her poetic ability . . . MISS CHAPLIN . . . Friendly, fun-loving—and sincerely interested in helping her students cope with the problems of managing a budget or cooking a pie—or snaring a man! . . . DR. DANIEL . . . Quiet, friendly, and filled with an eager desire to let us share his knowledge of the past and present . . . MISS BYNUM . . . warm smile, merry eyes—she makes it natural for us to like history . . . MISS KERN . . . A linguist if there ever was one! She tells wonderful stories, too; and as Y sponsor, she's wonderful help . . . MISS BROOME . . . Her interests are many . . . versatility is reflected in her skill as an amateur photographer, her flair for languages, her interest in our Latin American neighbors.

DR. GIN . . . Writes the most interesting notes on themes —if only we could read them! . . . MRS. OWENS . . . Sparkling eyes and friendly smile, and her voice is as smooth as her manner . . . DR. WIGGINS . . . The wise student will not neglect details of spelling and punctuation while absorbing Dr. Wig's enthusiasm and appreciation for literature . . . DR. HUFFMAN . . . By his friendliness, sense of humor, sincerity, and kindness of his own personality he makes the whole campus a better place . . . DR. FORMAN . . . or "Doc Lee," as he is known to his students, has done much to develop a comparatively new department at Wesleyan . . . MISS ROZAR . . . Efficiency plus! She really keeps the kitchen and dining room running smoothly. Is the food good? Just ask some of those freshmen who gained fifteen pounds! . . . MISS GARNER . . . A helpful and dependable assistant to the dietician. Her amiability and charm are recognized by all who know her.

MISS ROZAR AND MISS GARNER

DR. FORMAN

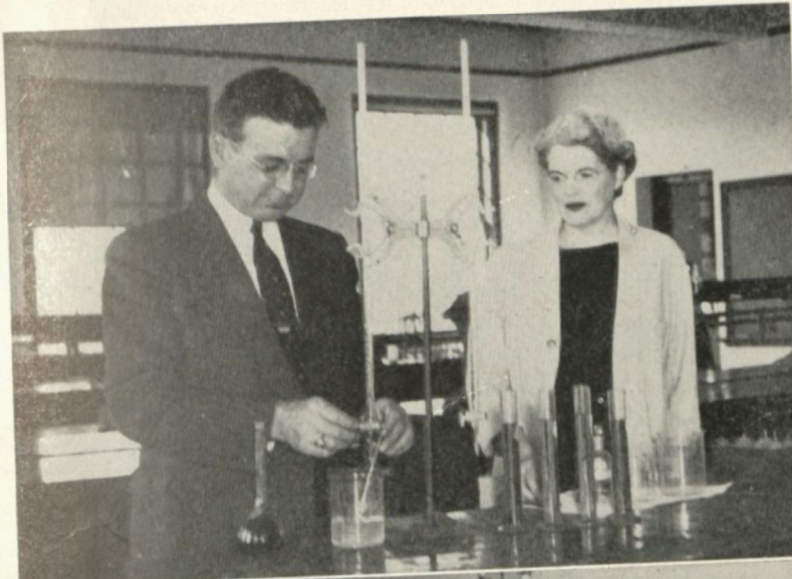

FACULTY

MISS THOBURN

MISS THOBURN . . . In a business-like way she will tell you all about psychology, but soon you will forget she's teaching a lesson and find yourself really interested! . . . MR. BERRY . . . Always smiling, never flustered, forever willing to explain chemistry to poor strugglers . . . DR. DALE . . . Calm and collected, soft musical voice, keen mind . . . DR. BRUCE . . . A quiet dignity, sincere eyes, and a keen, rare intelligence . . . DOC HOWELL . . . If she's frank, she's only being truthful. A real teacher, person and friend . . . DR. BROWN . . . A quiet manner, a shy smile, a true love of science . . . MISS CARLTON . . . Better known to the seniors as "Snorita"—a keen edged wit, an even temperament, an acute interest in Wesleyannes, both as individuals and as community builders.

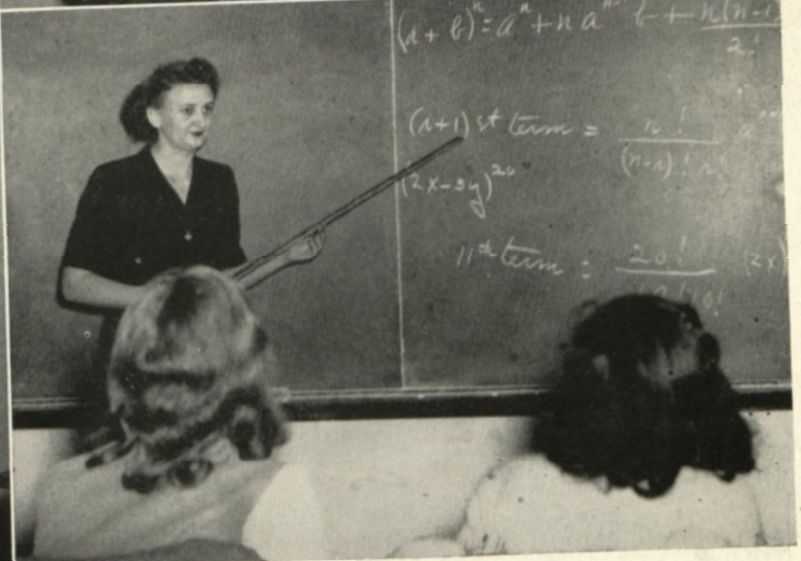

MR. BERRY, MISS DALE

DR. BRUCE

MISS HOWELL, DR. BROWN

MISS CARLTON

MRS. GRAY . . . has a talent for making school almost like home . . . pretty flowers everywhere, asking the blessing . . . and a motherly shoulder to take our troubles to . . . MRS. COWART . . . Her understanding nature and pleasant personality keep us from ever getting too sick . . . MISS WINN . . . Her friendly aid in our schedule problems will always be remembered . . .

MISS FRESHMAN

Betty Turner

Dear Mom,

When I came to Wesleyan months ago, I walked up on the loggia, surveyed the fountain and the dormitories, and felt like a very small frog in a very huge pond.

I kept this feeling for about ten minutes, just long enough to find my room and throw my coat across the bed. Then a girl opened the door of my abode, stuck her head in, and with a friendly smile drawled, "Hi there, I'm Betty Smith from Atlanta, Georgia." From that moment on, far into the night, my door swung open as people I had never seen before persistently hammered for a place in my heart. They didn't have to hammer long for soon I realized that the only way to make new friends was to be one.

The first month was a bit raw. The annual event of Rat Day was long in coming. The upperclassmen were divided upon its existence in 1943...and soon we Freshmen began to dream that Rat Day was a thing of the past. Then one night we realized that we had dreamed in vain, for the weird strains of "We are the Sophomores after the Freshman class" had the goose pimples playing leap frog over our skins. Even twenty four hours of "bailing out", playing Sir Walter Raleighs with our best bath towels, and deforming our faces under tons of goo couldn't defeat us. The Golden and White went all out for soccer and rounded up the best team ever dreamed of...so good in fact that it went out on Thanksgiving Day and beat the Sophomore class "just for practice".

When we had cooled down after that victory, we realized that we possessed one of the natural leaders for president of our class. So we gave to Mitzi Hyman the task of keeping order as well as captaining the soccer team. Well, Mom, I wanted to give you what you asked for...a little idea of what is happening here at college. It's a lot more fun than anything I ever did before and a lot more work. So please have a big bowl of fruit salad ready when I get home Mom, 'cause I sure do miss your cooking.

Love you always Sally

however, until 301 B. C. that Seleucus, aided by Lysimachus, succeeded in defeating Antigonus.

Ho, hum....It's ten to one. ~~fax~~ I'll betcha ten to one that Pop won't read this old term paper anyway--I might as well diverge on something interesting.

This being our fourth awful Reading Day, it reminds me that we Sophs have been at Wesleyan almost two years now. I can't believe that just last year we were new here. I guess we were about the scarest bunch of "Rats" that ever was, but we cured our ~~fresh~~ freshman greenness pretty soon after Rat Day, mainly, I'm sure, by winning the soccer championship.

This year has been another glorious year. We Sophs have enjoyed having Freshmen to lord over. They've been good sports, and our friendly fights with them didn't damage the relationships between us.

Who ever heard of a "Sophomore Slump"? Not this class of Sophs! We've had plenty of spirit and energy from the start, and that's what it takes. As sponsor, Miss Thom has done a swell job of keeping up our morale. We even won Play Night and received a lovely trophy--a shiney tin can glorified with purple ribbons and "engraved" with black crayon. The spirit was right for soccer, and for Stunt Night, too. Good ole Purple and White--wonderful colors for a wonderful class. You agree, don't you, Pop? Well, anyway:

Dear Johnny -

It's a lovely day here at Rivoli. It reminds me so very much of that Saturday afternoon of my first year here when you came to see me and we walked out to the Cabin. We were really green freshmen then, but lots of things have happened since, and in the process we've become "the Junior Class of Wesleyan College."

You remember I told you last year about the girls from our class who had married or gotten jobs? Well, this year we've found that even more have joined the ranks of housewives or ventured into the business world. But those of us who are still in the "pursuit of knowledge" have that same old Tri K spirit and can play basketball and soccer as well as ever.

Johnny, you'll never believe it but the mound is gone! I wish you could see our "new" campus now. And speaking of new things, we're having the time of our lives being big sisters to the freshman. Our maternal instincts are coming out!

We've started our majors this year - it's certainly fascinating to be able to dig deeply into a field you really like. Who knows - we may even graduate at this rate!

It goes without saying that we're very anxious to have all of you boys back, and it makes me feel mighty good to know you're doing everything you can to speed up the process. Take good care of yourself -

Love always - Doris

Senatus Wesleyan Collegii

OMNIBUS HAS LITTERAS PERLECTURIS SALUTEM

This is to certify that the Senior Class of '44 is graduated cum glee in various degrees the four most ambitious in August of '43, sixteen the following January, and the tail end in June.

The class of the Knights of the Round Table, better known as the class which spent nights around the table, set an all time high in social if not scholastic activities of the college.

In our Freshman Hall days we cared naught for rules and ran Miss Vaughan and Dr. Doug ragged. The lofty Sophs brought us partially down to earth when they launched our tooth-brushes en masse and beat us at Stunt Night, but we avenged ourselves by beating them at soccer, and by taking first place in the swimming meet.

Sophomore year, half of class got married, but we carried on by initiating the tradition of rat court at Wesleyan, placing third in soccer, second in Stunt Night and second in the swimming meet.

The fall of '43 found us excited over little sisters and awed by our new responsibilities. Things really started happening. We bowed to our little sisters in the soccer finals, and won the stunt cup for "Private Percy's Adventures" in the land of the hula-hula and Ta Oo Wa Oo Na. In February the great reform movement started, with even the "Holies" cooperating to secure a working Student Government. Some of the class, under the direction of Roberta Jones, raised $3,000 to equip and furnish the Student Lounge. And with Dunwody back, we won the swimming meet.

And then,—'44—and the realization that our most carefree years are behind us. All too soon it has come, but we leave with the assurance that the Knights will always remain true to the traditions and ideals of the Round Table.

Since it is our humble way to try to express feelings and appreciation and love which cannot truly be expressed, we, the students of the conservatory dedicate our section of the annual to Miss Annabel Horn for making of the oldest the best. Her tireless work in time of depression, her ever present dignity, her pride in our school, her sympathy for her girls have all contributed to make us know that where Wesleyan is is where her heart lies, also.

Miss Annabel Horn

AND OUR APPRECIATION...

to MR. DAUGHERTY—For seeing the Art Department through the depths and helping to push it to the top.

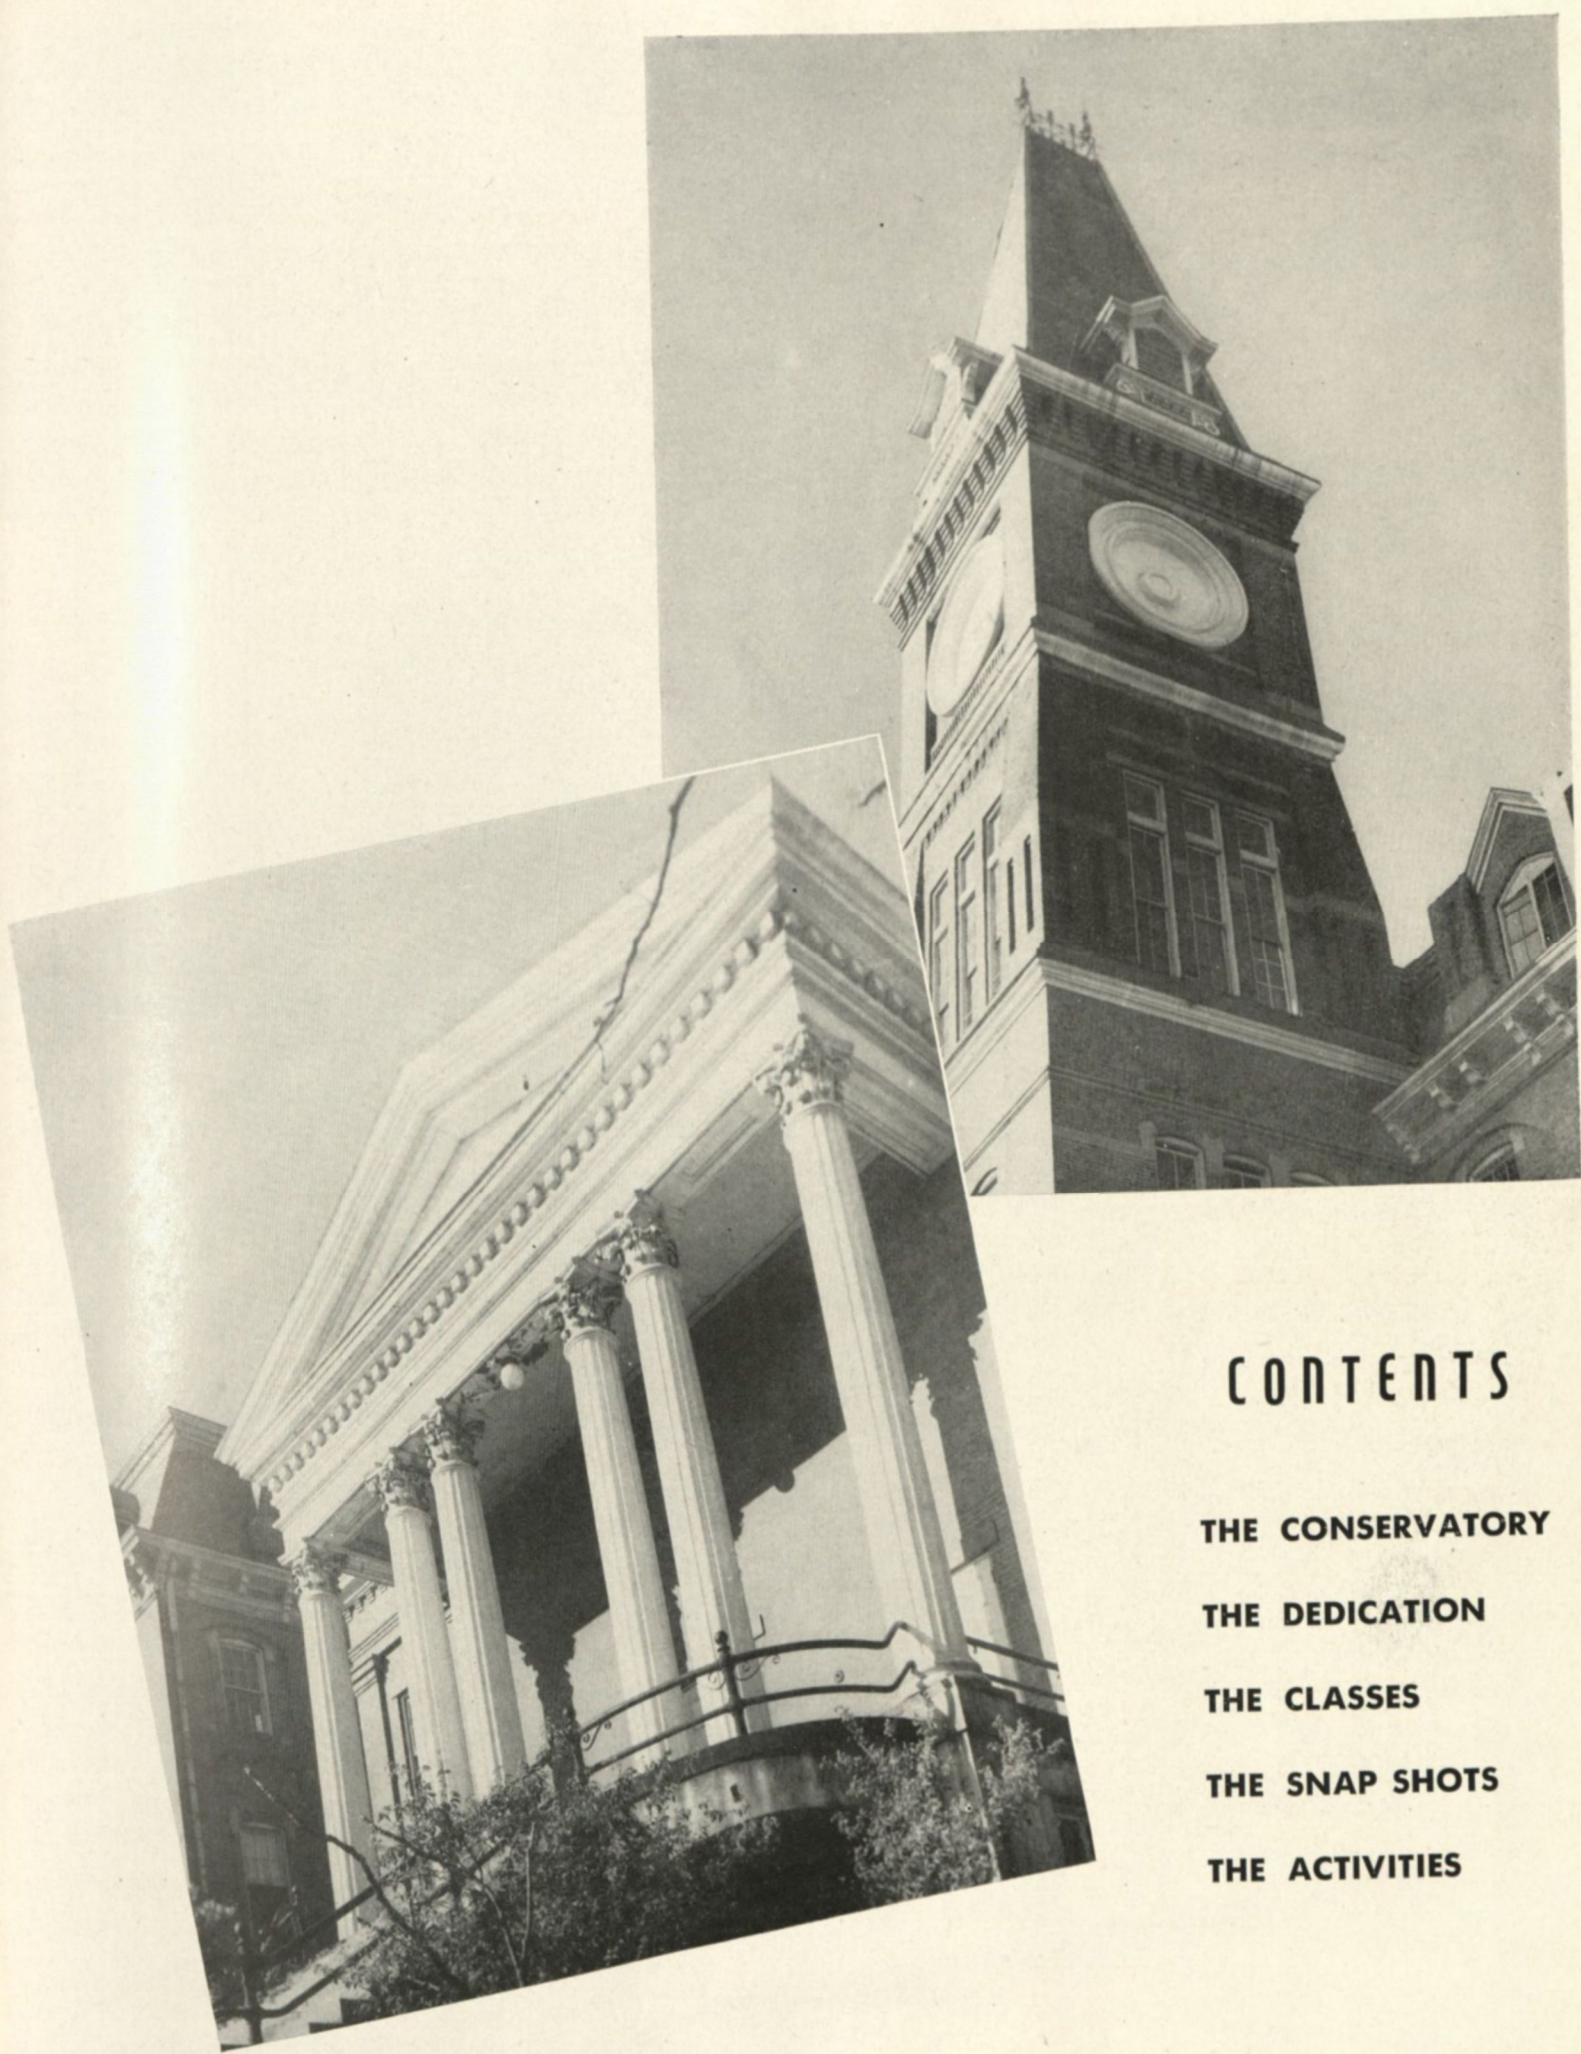

to MRS. HENTON—For her loyalty, for her ever-present help in making the Conservatory a place of beauty.

to MRS. PITTMAN—For overlooking our selfish grumbles and making meals out of ration stamps and ingenuity.

to MISS DOMINGOS—For ignoring our impatience, satisfying our curiosity and for being faithful.

NOTICE!!

Here we are!—back again as sophisticated sophomores. Might be called superiority complex. Freshman Beware!! It's "Rat Day" and we're hovering over you rubbing our hands together as our fiendish minds give you no mercy.* Wake up all sophomores!! Mid Term Exams are near at hand and I don't believe we know as much as we think. So let's vanish to our little corners "quick like a bunny" and silently absorb. Gaiety!! A swell Halloween Party is on its way, so let's put into practice all the tricks (in becoming a shinning star) that we learned last year. Say, what is this I hear about us being recognized by upper-classmen?—how alarming!! Have you heard about "thing - a - ma - gig" — she's married. Warning! We can't let this happen to us. We're hanging together until commencement—we keep saying to ourselves. The sophomore's have unanimously elected the sophomore class as the happiest in college history.

MISS JUNIOR

Margaret Tillman

Daddy Darling,
I'm in a pickle! Here I am...
supposed to write the history of the Junior class, for the first time in my life I am stumped. That's a bad state for a Junior, but when somebody like Miss Junior class asks a favor of you—well, you just dig in.

We call her Maggie—Ha... not knowing just what the "ha" is for! I'd like to dedicate the history to her—maybe, though, she wouldn't like it. She has worked hard, 'specially on the Halloween party. It was oodles of fun... the gym didn't look like a gym anymore. It looked as if it were the glen of Robin Hood and his merry men.

Speaking of men—ummm! Interesting! But! I'm supposed to be writing the class history.
"Off we go into the wide blue yonder...." I think I'm beginning to wander a bit. I'm sooo sleepy. I'll write the history tomorrow.

Goodnight Dad—

SENIOR CLASS

CLASS HISTORY

Seniors are dignified. At commencement they wear black robes which hide their knees. And pancake hats with tassels. They hold high their heads and walk around like roosters. Sophisticated. But not as sophisticated as sophomores who think they are. People they know come to see them leave. Popular. But not as popular as seniors who don't leave. They cry and make all manner of sorrowing. Childish. But not as childish as freshmen who know it. Seniors are people with weights on their shoulders. And bags under their eyes. They bend over to lift up one book and find two. They wear glasses. Not colored. They make beds when they first get up because of no other time to. Not diligence. Seniors are people who give recitals and are stately. Who paint theses. And build statutes that are too big. And make plays every night. They know how.

Seniors are people. At least that is what they were four years before. But being seniors they are not.

But there is a difference . . . a new angle to the business of Annual publishing. No longer is the VETERROPT in the groove, but instead it has reached new heights in the style and recording of the student's career.

WATCHTOWER STAFF...

CONSERVATORY REPORTING

This year it has been the policy of The Watchtower staff to bring both campuses of Wesleyan into closer union. Since the paper is a student publication, it makes evident the needs of the student body and records the events that occur. To accomplish its purpose of equality and unity, the Conservatory elected an associate editor and a staff who cooperate with the college editor in combining the news of the campuses into one paper, so that united we may stand.

ART

The Art Club of the Conservatory is living. The members meet bi-weekly in the art studio for discussions. Free-lancing of ideas clears up vague understandings or arguments. When clarity is reached, the club endeavors to pass the gathered understanding on to others, so that they, too, may live in a world of beauty.

The sponsor of the Art Club is

The Piano Club is one of the oldest and most active clubs on the campus. Its purpose is to increase the musical scope of its members. The monthly program consists of lectures, violin and piano recitals, and the student programs which provide an opportunity for the students to appear in public.

Guided by its capable sponsor, Professor Joseph Maerz, the Piano Club is a most successful organization.

THE WATCH

MILDRED COLLINS
Editor

Assignments . . . Copy . . . Cuts . . . Headlines . . . Thursday afternoons at the printers . . . All this is reminiscent of the journalistic whirl in which the Watchtower staff lives.

Published bi-weekly, the college newspaper strives to present accurately and interestingly the campus activities. Through its editorials it attempts to give the student body intelligent leadership for progressive measures. In cooperation with the journalism department, it trains prospective journalists in the impartial and ethical presentation of all phases of a newspaper by actually working on a publication.

This year the Watchtower has continued various features that have become standbys and has added new ones. "Harmonies" is the poetry column which receives contributions from many members of the student body. "Peggy's Penpricks" and "Confidentially" are regular columns. Gossip is taken care of in "The Newest and Worst" and "Tappings." Miss Carnes' "Library Notes" appear regularly. Another feature of the paper this year was a contest to determine the ideal "Wesleyandie." This was won by Charles Bragg, sponsored by Martha Gragg.

The Conservatory staff of the Watchtower has been especially active this year, doubling the interest of the paper. The goals to which the paper is directed are intelligent interpretation of news and views and an ever increasing ability to better present these to the student.

The staff of the Wesleyan has attempted this year to publish not only their own work but that of all those students who write, in order to arouse the interest of all Wesleyannes and to make them feel that this is their magazine, written by and for them.

Five issues are published during the year, containing essays, short stories, and poetry. The Editor's introductory column "For Your Information" contains brief sketches of the contributors for the issue.

The covers for this year feature photographs of the students. The first shows a group of Freshmen, the second, the Christmas issue, a snow scene, and the last three show groups of Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors respectively. This cover plan is designed to further student interest in the magazine.

Members of the Scribes, honorary writers' club, have continued to contribute to the magazine throughout the year, and the final issue will be the work of this group.

It is the hope of the staff that they have achieved success in producing a publication to interest—to inform—to entertain.

The loggia is the hub of the Wesleyan wheel, just as College government is the axis of all activities of which Wesleyannes are a part. Every axis has two ends, and Student Government's ends lie in her aims: first, to make each student realize that she is the college, and that while representing the spirit of Wesleyan, she herself grows in character and responsibility.

GOVERNMENT

College government, of which every girl automatically becomes a member upon entering Wesleyan, is the nucleus of the democratic spirit which dominates the college. Through representation from each class, it directs the activities of the entire student body for the nine months of the college year.

At a retreat at the cabin before college opened in September, college government representatives met and planned the calendar for the year. Registration, freshman orientation week, student chapel every Friday, war activities, House Council, the upkeep of the student lounge, Dormitory Day in the spring . . . all these are under the supervision of college government.

The handbook was revised this year and the constitution was amended dividing the organization into three boards, the Executive Board, the Student-Faculty Judicial Board, and the Judicial Board.

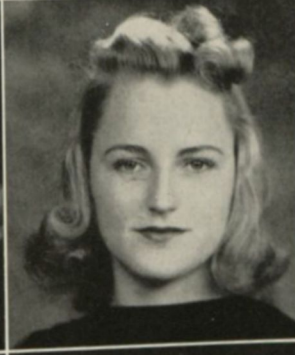

Striving constantly to uphold the high ideals of the organization, to set a good example and to increase the feeling of individual responsibility, each girl plays her part as a member of the Student Government Association.

Y. W. C. A.

A growing knowledge of God, the atmosphere of music and a solemn purpose—this and more is brought to the students on the Wesleyan campus by the Young Women's Christian Association.

The purpose of the Y. W. C. A. is as follows: "We unite in the desire to realize a full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God. We determine to have a part in making this life possible for all people. In this task we seek to understand Jesus and to follow Him."

For more than forty years this ideal has been upheld and applied to the carrying out of useful activities. Social activities Department gives the atmosphere of refinement and culture through formal dinners and after dinner coffee, Thanksgiving and Christmas banquets, Stunt night and suppers.

The Department of Social Service gives all students an opportunity to have that satisfaction that comes from doing for others. They sponsor a Christmas tree for the servants, have play groups for the negro children, and offer a channel through which Wesleyan girls play Santa Claus to the children at the Hephzibah Home, Thanksgiving, Halloween, Easter—all are made happier for the orphans by the contributions of the "Y."

World Friendship and Industrial Commission keep students in touch with the outside world and give them an insight into the life of the working girl.

The Publicity Committee keeps us reminded of the various activities and their purpose and Freshman Commission, Sophomore Council, Activity Council, and Day Student Representatives give all Wesleyannes the opportunity to participate and to feel that they are a part of the Y. W. C. A.

The spirit of Wesleyan is embodied in the "Y." Morning Watch—a chorus of song coming in an open window on frosted air—taps—a perfect day—a perfect year for finding an abundant life.

SOCIAL STANDARDS COMMITTEE

Under the watchful eye of the Social Standards Committee comes everything social and all standards of dress and behavior on the Wesleyan campus.

The committee is a branch of College Government, with the entire student body responsible to the committee.

One of the projects for the year was the compiling of a calendar of events to be issued at the beginning of each semester, complete with everything from community concerts to soccer games. Another project was the keeping of a scrapbook of social functions on the campus, including the cost, the hostesses, the entertainment, the place, and the purpose, for reference in future years.

The committee concerned itself with dining room conduct and food conservation, aided by chapel talks, posters, table hostesses, and attractive table placards. It strove to eliminate dating problems, promoting proper introductions and friendships between service men and Wesleyan girls. It arranged dances and parties both on and off campus in collaboration with Cochran Field, Mercer University, and Camp Wheeler.

Also, under the jurisdiction of the committee comes the Student Lounge, involving care of the furniture, upkeep of the radio-victrola, and the purchase of records.

To these girls has fallen much work and little glory, save the satisfaction that perhaps their efforts have been one step gained toward giving to the Social Standards Committee the influence, prestige, and respect it will inevitably possess in years to come.

SCRIBES

Scribes, honorary literary society, was founded in 1920. The charter members were chosen for their interest in poetry. Today those honored are chosen for outstanding literary achievement in writing prose as well as poetry. It is the most distinctive honor to be achieved in the field of literature on the Wesleyan campus.

Through the year the Scribes have contributed their work to the Watchtower and the Wesleyan and anticipate putting out their annual Scribes issue of the Wesleyan in the spring.

We were organized 'way back when, to promote better relations between the boarding and day students . . . lately we've really been plugging for that, too. Harry Edwards is our representative to Student Government . . . she's a whiz at reminding people there are such things as Day Students . . . for we work for Wesleyan, and love Wesleyan just as much as any other girl on the campus. Take note of the high scholastic average of we non-sleepers on the campus . . . Look at the Day Student chosen one of Wesleyan Superlatives, Miss Betty Dunwody . . . Watch the town girls in almost every campus organization . . . See them as among the best representatives come what may . . . The Chemists' CRUCIBLE

The Crucible Club was founded on March 2, 1937, and is composed of students especially interested in science. It has gained recognition from its Leon P. Smith award which has been presented to the most outstanding teacher of chemistry or geology in the southeastern states. The first award was given in 1938 to Dr. E. Emmett Reid of Johns Hopkins University. In 1939, Dr. Samuel Guy of Emory University was the recipient. Dr. Stephen Taber, geology teacher of the University of South Carolina received the 1940 award.

Due to transportation difficulties, plans have been made to give this years Leon P. Smith award to the outstanding chemistry student upon the Wesleyan campus.

The officers of the club are: President, Elizabeth Rycroft; Vice-President, Blanche Coleman; Secretary, Winifred Colquitt; Treasurer, Dotte Smith. Under the leadership of Dr. Jane Dale, the officers are planning a successful year. The "crucible" is the symbol by which the club endeavors to further interest in all fields of science.

And for the

The Hiking Club is for all girls who like to hike. It is fun indeed to walk through the woods in the fall when all the trees are in their vari-colored splendor and in the spring when everything is fresh and green. Dr. Forman, a good friend of the club, is an experienced hiker and has discovered many fascinating trails which he is putting on a new map. Whenever you want an interesting place to walk just ask "Doc Lee."

A "W" is the reward for walking two hundred miles. We have a five-mile hike every other Saturday afternoon, so by walking a few miles between club meetings you can earn a hiking "W" and have a lot of fun doing it.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The International Relations Club is an organization composed of those students who are especially interested in world affairs and the problems arising from our increasingly smaller world. With this aim in mind, the programs have been made as varied and as interesting as possible.

Miss Katherine Johnson translated a diary taken from a Japanese officer on Guadalcanal and Dr. Henry C. Forman gave an enlightening talk on the customs of Mexico with moving pictures which he had taken on his trip. In December Dr. Norman Huffman spoke on the political sentiments of Turkey.

The Wesleyan Club is a member of the Georgia Conference of International Relations Clubs and is affiliated with the Carnegie Endowment for World Peace.

The Fine Arts Club of Wesleyan was founded in the spring of 1943 under the sponsorship of Dr. H. C. Forman, head of the Fine Arts department. The purpose of the club is to future the interest of students in the history of art and related subjects.

The programs of the club consist of outside lecturers, motion pictures, and informal talks by the art staff and club members.

An outstanding lecturer was Mr. von Grachwitz, of Wesleyan University, Connecticut, where he is curator of prints. His subject was the technique of etching.

Mr. Lee Happ of Macon entertained the club with his motion pictures of the Charleston and Natchez gardens.

Dr. and Mrs. Forman also entertained the Fine Arts Club at their home in Macon. Mrs. Forman read an account from her diary of her adventures in Mexico. Her reading was followed by a talk on Diego Rivera's Philosophy, by Dr. Forman.

The Fourth Estate is made up of a group of students who have an active interest in Journalism. To become a member they must have had at least one semester of Journalism and have a B average in that subject.

The aim of the club is to keep alive an interest in Journalism on the campus. Informal meetings have been held from time to time. Outstanding speakers at these meetings have been Mr. W. T. Anderson and Miss Susan Myrick.

The Fourth Estate was formed in 1943. It is the hope of the charter members that their early enthusiasm will carry it into future success as a useful organization.

President Margy Ragan peruses the news.

Sophomore Council, a link of the Y. W. C. A., formerly was composed of a limited number of students from the Sophomore class who were most active in Freshman Commission in their freshman year. This year not only is it composed of those active in Y. W. C. A. work last year, but of all sophomores who are interested. The purpose of Sophomore Council is to help promote Y. W. C. A. activities, carrying out its projects under the guidance of the Y. W. C. A.

Senior SOCCER Team

A crisp, sunny Thanksgiving Day—words that are synonymous with soccer at Wesleyan. The 1943 soccer season opened with the annual freshman-sophomore and junior-senior games on Thursday, November 25. The freshmen eked out a 5-4 victory after a fast and close game, while the seniors came through with flying colors, defeating the juniors 8-0.

Sophomore SOCCER Team

The first of the two games was between the freshmen and sophomores. The teams were well matched and the game ended in a tie. Jean Anderson kicked the deciding point.

The senior-junior game brought together old foes. The juniors played a hard game and rushed the seniors' goal several times, but the combination of goal keeper Irene Pound and senior backfield proved to be too much for the Trik team. The senior forward line scored again and again with Sutherland kicking two goals, Dotte Smith and Elinor Rees each kicking one.

Miss Carlton, Dr. Huffman and Miss Bynum keep the scoreboard.

Junior SOCCER Team

The first of the play-off games was successful for the juniors and freshmen. The juniors retaliated to beat the sophomores 2-0 in a five-minute overtime play, and the freshmen scored 3 points in the first half to beat the seniors 3-0.

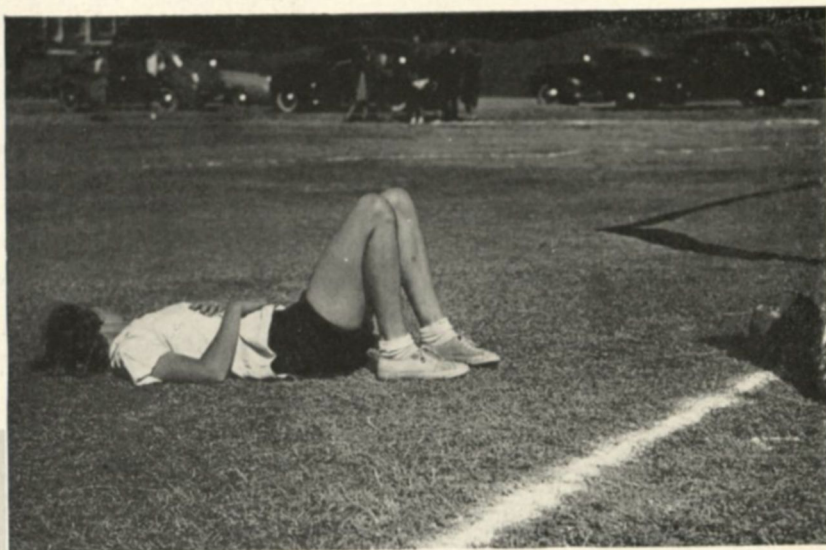

In the next play off games, the juniors defeated the seniors 4-0, thus eliminating them from the tournament.

Freshman SOCCER Team

The undefeated freshman met their junior sisters for the first time in the final game. The crimson shade never faltered in spirit and enthusiasm, and after a hard-fought game the Golden Hearts bit the dust and the juniors won the 1944 Soccer Championship.

Very few girls had played soccer before they came to Wesleyan but under the direction of Miss Thom and Mrs.

Adams the freshmen soon came to love the game and to develop skill in passing the kicking. In practice the freshmen and the juniors vie with one another and the sophomores and seniors team together.

Teams are chosen about three weeks before the tournament and it is then that intensive practice begins, culminating in the games on Thanksgiving Day, and in the following week.

MINOR SPORTS

The Rivoli Riding Club offers to the equestrian all the joys of home . . . what with the beautifully wooded sections of the campus, the numerous trails and bridle paths. Here Haley and Coleman take time out of studies for a bit of riding.

Jean seems confident that the ball just isn't going anywhere but right back where it came from.

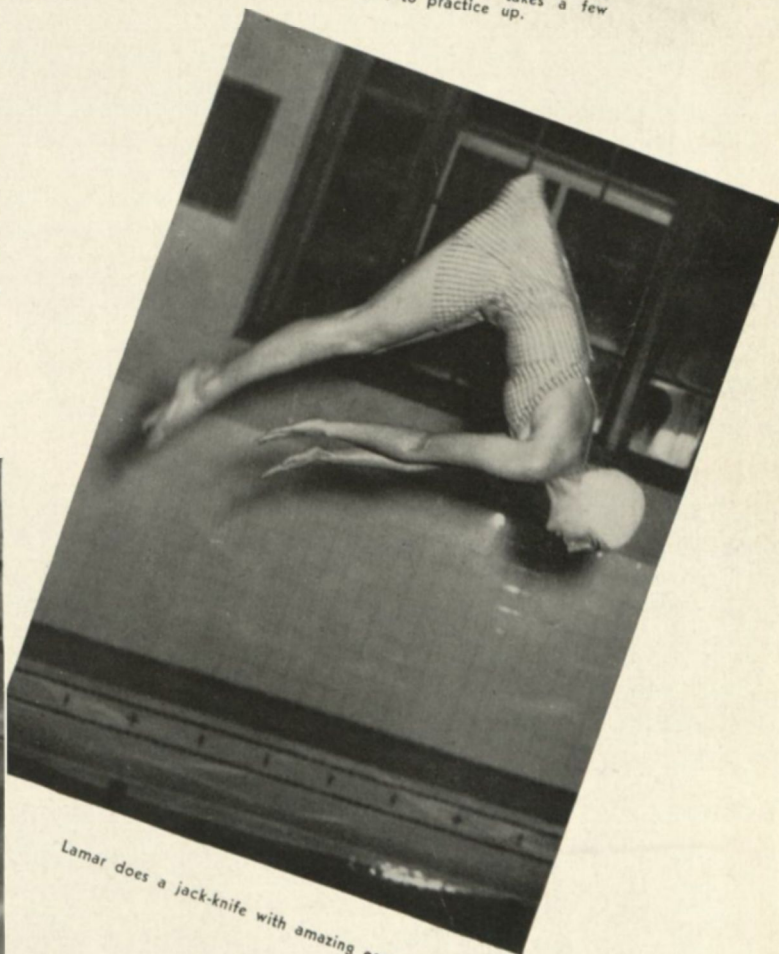

Hallie aims at the shuttle-cock.

Golfing is enjoyed by many of the Wesleyan girls on their own golf course located on the campus. Here Minor Herndon takes a few shots just to practice up.

The indoor pool in the gym is the pride of every Wesleyan girl. Regulation size, hygienically conditioned, just the right temperature, the pool is one of the most popular spots on the campus. Lifeguards are on duty at all times and bathing suits are provided for all. In the spring comes the swimming meet with all the classes competing.

Lamar does a jack-knife with amazing ease.

Left, top: Among the minor sports at Wesleyan, archery ranks high. Here Margie Soulie aims for unseen horizons. . . . Top: Sally and Polly have the right idea as they start off on a cool fall day for a bicycle jaunt into the country. The many roads and trails around Wesleyan offer to the eager cyclist wonderful opportunities. . . . Left, below: One of the year round sports at the college is tennis. This year the two English stars Mary Hardwick and Dorothy Little gave an exhibition in the fall. . . . Below: Kolock takes a mighty backhand that sends the ball whizzing back across the net.

"Yer out" . . . Sara didn't quite make it this time. Nydegger seems happy about the whole thing.

MINOR SPORTS

After the soccer games have begun to cool off, hockey steps into its own. Sticks clatter and balls zoom as the enthusiastic Wesleyannes rush that goal.

The "W" Club

The Wesleyan point system is the means by which a girl becomes a member of the "W" Club. Each sport gives a certain number of points to its participants and the girls obtaining 500 points during the year are awarded this letter, thus becoming members of the "W" Club.

The TENNIS Club

Actual ability in competitive play determines entry to the Tennis Club. During the year, members find keen competition in playing matches of a graduated ladder and tournaments. Ranking six players on the ladder receive chenille tennis "W's"; while the singles and doubles champions are awarded trophies. Serving as president of the club this year is Jane Kollock.
